Society Centers Interest In Two College Regattas

Races at Poughkeepsie Wednesday and Struggle Between Yale and Harvard Crews on Thames Friday Will Draw Entire Fashionable World

ACING, horse shows, garden parties and other outdoor attractions which, along with June weddings, have been absorbing society's attention, will be replaced in interest this week by the annual regattas at Poughkeepsie on Wednesday and New London on Friday. The fashionable world always takes a keen interest in these races, especially the one on the Thames between Yale and Harvard. From all over the country prominent members of society will gather at New London on Thursday night, and the Hotel Griswold and the cottages will be filled with guests, while the harbor will be dotted with every kind of craft, from the sail boat and small power boat to the palatial yachts, on which wil be gay parties. For fifty years the annual boat race on the Thames has been an event that has attracted world-wide attention, being second in aportance to the annual Oxford and Cambridge aquatic struggles.

Ceremony at Locust Valley Yesterday Heads the List of Week-End Weddings in Society That Runs Close to Early June Saturdays

RIDES were almost as numerous yesterday as on the previous Sat-D urdays of the month and many marriages of interest to the social world were celebrated. Most of them took place in the country, where the day was perfect for the outdoor receptions which followed the church weddings. One of the most notable was that of Miss Jane Moinson, daughter of Dr. Louis Moinson, of Paris, to Cyrus W. Miller, at Birchood, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson W. Burchard at Locust Valley, L. I. The bride has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Burchard for t a year and was introduced to society in New York last winter at the same time as Miss Mary Davis Landstreet, daughter of Mr. and Among Colonists Mrs. Fairfax Stuart Landstreet, who was one of the attendants yesterday.
